

DownUnder Sports Bistro Asian Australian Football Championships 2007

Results of Official Draw on 9th July 2007

Teams will be split into two separate groups by way of a Random Draw, officiated by a representative from the Australian Embassy in Bangkok. Each team will play each other team in their group. After the Group games are completed, the top team from each group, determined by the number of wins and percentage if needed, will then play in the Grand Final. The winner of the Grand Final becomes the Asian Champions for 2007.
