

Chan finds Round 4 fruitful

THE Hanoi Swans, the only AFL team in Vietnam, has dropped in again to see our guest footy tipster, Chan, at her fruit market in the Vietnam capital, and this time they took a camera.

"And she did a special on tomatoes — 45c a kilo — and carrots — 60c a kilo, just for us," Swan Chris Canty said.

"We felt obliged to buy the stuff from her, but I think the other market ladies were getting a bit jealous that six strapping lads were giving her stall so much attention."

The boys informed Chan that she had made up some ground on the Herald Sun's expert tipster, Geoff Poulter, in Round 4.

Our fruit lady tipped four winners to move to 15 while Poulter's three puts his total at 20.

It was a tough weekend for tipping winners. Channel 9's Garry Lyon tipped two winners, while Premier Steve Bracks and Bomber legend James Hird managed only one.

Which put them all ahead of The Age's chief football writer Caroline Wilson, who was none from eight.
